

Call for Nominations Award for Emerging Community- Based Researcher 2025

CBRCanada recognizes excellence in community-driven research for societal change

AWARD DESCRIPTION

The CBRCanada Award is intended to recognize the achievements of a promising community-based researcher and signify the importance of community-based research as a growing field of practice. The Award for Emerging Community-Based Researcher recognizes and celebrates an individual who embodies community-based research values in their work. Nominees for this award should be working closely with a community(ies) in support of transformational community-driven, participatory, and action-oriented research that imagines and builds innovative solutions that address community needs. They are deeply committed to social justice, the issue and/or community(ies) in which they work, and have a drive toward turning research into short and long-term actions to pressing societal issues.

The Awarded Emerging Community-Based Researcher will:

- Receive a commemorative plaque and a $1,000 cash prize to support their community-based research.
- Be recognized for their research achievements at the Award Gala Celebration that will be held at C2UExpo in Edmonton, AB on May 13th, 2025.
- Be recognized as the 2025 Emerging Community-Based Researcher recipient on the CBRCanada website, e-news, and social media.
- Be invited to virtually showcase their research at CBRCanada events to a network of 70+ member organizations across the country and beyond.

SELECTION CRITERIA

The award recipient should:

- Be an emerging community-based researcher (established within approximately the last five years), including community researchers, PhD students or recent graduates, post-doctoral fellows, or early career researchers. Applicants should be applying no more than five years from graduation and/or five years into their current research position.
- Have conducted research with communities in Canada.
- Have their research grounded in societal justice (including attention to Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion).
- Have their research be co-created with community partners and driven by community needs and priorities.
- Be able to showcase evidence toward turning community-based research into actions addressing societal issues.
- Belong to a CBRCanada member organization OR is a registered individual member.

NOMINATION PACKAGE

Nomination packages should include:

A) A completed Emerging Community-Based Researcher Award application form

C) Two to three endorsements by members of the community and/or academia by letter (up to 1.5 pages) or video (up to 4 minutes).

Note: Each interested organization may submit their top 3 nominations per award. Individuals should check with their affiliated organization to ensure they are following the internal selection process.

Submit your nomination package by March 31, 2025 at midnight ET to: CBRCanada Secretariat, at info@communityresearchcanada.ca with the subject: “2025 Emerging Community-Based Researcher Award”.

Award recipients will be announced late April 2025, and a Gala Ceremony will be held at C2UExpo 2025 in Edmonton, AB on May 13th, 2025 to honour the Award Recipients. Nominations will be evaluated by the CBRCanada Awards Subcommittee.

If you have questions, please contact the CBRCanada Secretariat, at info@communityresearchcanada.ca